

NOT TOO SERIOUS

Sat too serious? Nothing so bad. That the heart of the world can forget to be glad.

Not too serious? Things still come right.

All in the sweethearts of love and of light.

Not too serious? Never a day.

But ends with a rest from the ring of the tray.

Not too serious? All will be well.

They never played biddies as mighty.

Rains too serious? Don't take the world.

As a terrible torment through which we are carried.

To death and destruction unless we take care.

To do everything just to the turn of a nail.

Not too serious? Just do your best.

Get life and the belief of life to do the rest.

Hollister's rule.
